What is an IDPS?

The term IDPS stands for 'investor directed portfolio service'. An IDPS is a generic term for an investment and reporting service operated by a master trust or wrap account operator. People who invest through an IDPS are indirect investors.

What happens when I invest through a master trust, IDPS or wrap account?

When you invest via a master trust, IDPS or wrap account you are investing indirectly in this fund and as such you do not become a unitholder in the fund. It is the master trust, IDPS or wrap account operator (IDPS operator) that is the unitholder and the term 'unitholder' as used in this PDS refers to those entities. You will not receive reports or other documentation from Colonial First State in respect to this fund. Instead, these will be provided to you by your IDPS operator, who is the unitholder. Issues relating to your investment in this fund should be directed through your IDPS operator.

About the funds

When you invest in one of the Acadian Wholesale Funds, your money is combined with other investors' money in a managed investment scheme. Each fund is a separate managed investment scheme.

What is a managed fund?

A managed fund pools the money of many individual investors. This money is then professionally managed according to the investment objective of each fund. By investing in a managed fund and pooling your money with other investors, you can take advantage of investment opportunities that you may not be able to access as an individual investor.

When you invest in a managed fund, you are allocated a number of 'units' based on the entry unit price at the time you invest. Your units represent the value of your investment, which will change over time as the market value of the assets in the fund rises or falls.

Who are the parties involved?

Colonial First State Investments Limited is the responsible entity for each of the funds identified in this PDS.

We have appointed Acadian LLC as the investment manager for each of the global funds and we have appointed Acadian Australia as the investment manager for each of the Australian funds.

We have an investment management agreement in place with Acadian LLC and Acadian Australia as part of our arrangement to outsource investment management of each of the funds.

Appointed investment managers are subject to initial and ongoing reviews to ensure they can meet their obligations under the investment management agreement. They are required to certify and report to us on certain obligations under the investment management agreement. We also monitor the performance of the investment manager.

How Acadian manages the funds

The management of these funds is currently outsourced to Acadian LLC and Acadian Australia.

About Acadian

Acadian LLC is a Boston based investment adviser registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Acadian LLC has four wholly-owned investment advisory affiliates. Acadian Asset Management (Singapore) Pte Ltd is located in Singapore and is registered with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. Acadian Asset Management (Japan) is located in Tokyo and is registered with the Kanto Local Financial Bureau. Acadian Asset Management (UK) Limited is located in London and is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. Acadian Asset Management (Australia) Limited is located in Sydney and is the holder of Australian financial services license number 291872 ('AFSL'). All Acadian entities specialise in active equity strategies.

Acadian LLC evolved from a non-US all-cap equity manager to a global manager with the launch of Acadian LLC's global strategy in 1992. In 2002, Acadian LLC began to apply its stock selection process to attempt to find the poorest performing companies as well as the strongest, opening the doors for Acadian's long/short strategies. In 2006, based on research showing that a portfolio of low-risk stocks has the potential to offer market-like returns at lower risk than the overall equity market, Acadian launched its managed volatility strategy. Acadian's commitment to research, the flexibility of its process and the collaborative nature of its client relationships suggests that Acadian's suite of strategies will have the potential to continue to grow and evolve in an effort to meet the needs of its clients.

As at 30 September 2019, Acadian LLC, along with its wholly-owned affiliates invested over US$140 billion on behalf of a range of clients that include major pension funds, endowments, foundations, governments and other institutions across the world.

Investment philosophy and process

Acadian believes that the larger the pool of potential investments, the greater the opportunity an active manager has to add value. Acadian believes that stocks and markets have many attributes that are related to potential outperformance, and that a successful investment approach must be multi-faceted and highly adaptable. Acadian believes that objectivity is crucial to investment success.

Acadian's investment philosophy is founded on these observations:

- Markets are inefficient because many investors do not always act rationally
- Investors have 'mental models' of how stock prices are set, but these frequently change due to both external and internal (psychological) factors
- Markets are adaptive, investment strategies go in and out of favour, and risk/reward relationships change over time.

This suggests value-added can best be generated by:

- Knowing the value of different pieces of information at different points in time in an objective, quantified and disciplined way Applying this value to a broad opportunity set
- Employing dynamic investment strategies adapted to the current market environment
- Utilising a disciplined, systematic stock selection process.

Acadian's investment process is quantitative, active and bottom-up. Acadian employs structured stock and peer group valuation models that are customised to each market. These models are designed to capture a broad range of characteristics such as valuation, earnings potential, financial quality and price movements. Stock factors are used to assess how well each stock in Acadian's universe is likely to perform relative to its peer group. Acadian also applies separate models to forecast peer group returns, and then adds a peer group forecast to each stock forecast.

Acadian combines the factor data and determines a return forecast for each stock. The end result is a ranking of the entire 33,500-stock universe from most to least attractive. Acadian then uses a sophisticated portfolio optimisation system to trade off the expected return of the stocks with such considerations as the benchmark, desired level of risk, transaction cost estimates and other requirements. Country and sector weights fall out of the bottom-up stock selection process, with overall portfolio risk control ensuring the desired level of diversification.

Risks of investing

What is risk?

Understanding investment risk is the key to successfully developing your investment strategy. Before you consider your investment strategy, it is important to understand that:

- all investments are subject to risk
- there may be loss of principal, capital or earnings
- different strategies carry different levels of risk depending on the assets that make up the strategy, and
- assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

When considering your investment, it is important to understand that:

- the value of investment funds will go up and down
- returns are not guaranteed
- you may lose money
- previous returns don't predict future performance laws affecting investment may change
- your level of risk appetite will vary depending on your age, investment timeframe, where other parts of your money are invested and
- how comfortable you are with the possibility of losing some of your investment in some years.

Different investments perform differently over time. Investments that have provided higher returns over the longer term have also tended to produce a wider range of returns. These investments are generally described as more risky, as there is a higher chance of losing money, but they can also give you a better chance of achieving your long-term objectives. Investments that have provided more stable returns are considered less risky, but they may not provide sufficient long-term returns for you to achieve your long-term goals. Selecting the investments that best match your investment needs and timeframe is crucial in managing this risk.

Your adviser can help you understand investment risk, including those applicable to complex options, and design an investment strategy that is right for you.

General risks for all funds

The main risks which typically affect your investments are:

Market risk

Investment returns are influenced by the performance of the market as a whole. This means that your investments can be affected by things like changes in interest rates, investor sentiment and global events, depending on which markets or asset classes you invest in and the timeframe you are considering.

Security and investment-specific risk

Within each asset class and each fund, individual securities like mortgages, shares, fixed interest securities or hybrid securities can be affected by risks that are specific to that investment or that security. For example, the value of a company's shares can be influenced by changes in company management, its business environment or profitability. These risks can also impact on the company's ability to repay its debt.

Management risk

Each fund in the PDS has an investment manager to manage your investments on your behalf. There is a risk that the investment manager will not perform to expectation.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the difficulty in selling an asset for cash quickly without an adverse impact on the price received. Assets such as shares in large listed companies are generally considered liquid, while 'real' assets such as direct property and infrastructure are generally considered illiquid. Under abnormal or difficult market conditions, some normally liquid assets may become illiquid, restricting our ability to sell them and to make withdrawal payments for investors without a potentially significant delay.

Counterparty risk

This is the risk that a party to a transaction such as a swap, foreign currency forward or stock lending fails to meet its obligations such as delivering a borrowed security or settling obligations under a financial contract.

Legal, regulatory and foreign investment risk

This is the risk that any change in taxation, corporate or other relevant laws, regulations or rules may adversely affect your investment.

In particular, for funds investing in assets outside Australia, your investment may also be adversely impacted by changes in broader economic, social or political factors, regulatory change and legal risks applicable to where the investment is made or regulated, including differing insolvency regimes.

Environmental, social and governance (ESG) and climate risk

The value of individual securities may be influenced by environmental, social and governance factors. These factors include the potential impact that climate change and global warming may have on the valuation of a security. For example, a company's revenue may be reduced due to weather events and this may then reduce the value of the company's shares.

Distribution risk

In some circumstances, the frequency or rate of distribution payments may vary or you may not receive a distribution. This is more likely to occur when a fund employs extensive currency hedging or uses derivatives.

Fund-specific risks

Typical fund-specific risks are described below.

Securities lending risk

When a fund engages in securities lending, there is a risk that the borrower may become insolvent or otherwise become unable to meet, or refuse to honour, its obligations to return the loaned assets. In the event, the fund could experience delays in recovering assets and may incur a capital loss. Where a fund invests any collateral it receives as part of the securities lending program, such investments are also subject to the general investment risks outlined above.

Currency risk

Investments in global markets or securities which are denominated in foreign currencies give rise to foreign currency exposure. This means that the value of these investments will vary depending on changes in the exchange rate. Funds which have significant currency risks adopt different currency management strategies. These strategies may include currency hedging, which involves reducing or aiming to remove the impact of currency movements on the value of the investment.

Information on the currency management strategy for each fund with a significant currency risk is set out in that fund's description on pages 11 to 12.

Because different funds have different currency management strategies, you should consult your financial adviser on the best approach for you.

Additional important information about currency risk is provided on page 23.

Derivatives risk

Derivatives are contracts between two parties that usually derive their value from the price of a physical asset or market index. They can be used to manage certain risks in investment portfolios or as part of an investment strategy. However, they can also increase other risks in a portfolio or expose a portfolio to additional risks. Risks include: the possibility that the derivative position is difficult or costly to reverse; that there is an adverse movement in the asset or index underlying the derivative; or that the parties do not perform their obligations under the contract.

In general, investment managers may use derivatives to:

- protect against changes in the market value of existing investments
- achieve a desired investment position without buying or selling the underlying asset
- leverage a portfolio
- manage actual or anticipated interest rate and credit risk
- alter the risk profile of the portfolio or the various investment positions
- manage currency risk.

Derivatives may be used in a fund to provide leverage and may result in the effective exposure to a particular asset, asset class or combination of asset classes exceeding the value of the portfolio. The effect of using derivatives to provide leverage may not only result in capital losses but also an increase in the volatility and magnitude of the returns (both positive and negative) for the fund.

As financial instruments, derivatives are valued regularly, and movements in the value of the underlying asset or index should be reflected in the value of the derivative. The funds in the PDS may use derivatives, such as futures, options, forward currency contracts and swaps, and are outlined in the strategy of each fund.

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a party to a credit transaction fails to meet its obligations, such as defaulting under a mortgage, a mortgage-backed security, a hybrid security, a fixed interest security or a derivative contract. This creates an exposure to underlying borrowers and the financial condition of issuers of these securities.

Emerging markets risk

Due to the nature of the investments in emerging markets, there is an increased risk that the political and/or legal framework may change and adversely impact your investments. This could include the ability to sell assets. Funds that invest in global markets may have exposure to emerging markets.

For additional information on emerging markets risk, refer to page 24.

Short selling risk

Some of the funds in the PDS use short selling. Short selling means the fund sells a security it does not own to try and profit from a decrease in the value of the security. This is generally done by borrowing the security from another party to make the sale. The short sale of a security can greatly increase the risk of loss, as losses on a short position are not limited to the purchased value of the security.

Short selling strategies involve additional risks such as:

- Liquidity risk
In certain market conditions, a fund that adopts a short selling strategy may not be able to reverse a short position because the security it needs to buy may not be available for purchase in a reasonable timeframe or at all. In this event, losses may be magnified.
- Leverage risk
Whilst short selling can often reduce risk, it is also possible for a fund's long positions and short positions to both lose money at the same time.
- Prime broker risk
When short selling is employed, the assets of the investment fund are generally held by the prime broker (which provides the broking, stock lending and other services). As part of this arrangement, assets may be used by or transferred to the prime broker under a securities lending arrangement which will expose the fund to a securities lending risk. There is a risk that the prime broker does not return equivalent assets or value to the fund (for example, because of insolvency). This would have a substantial negative impact on the value of your investment. This risk is managed by having arrangements with large, well established and globally operating prime brokers. If you would like details of our prime broker, please contact us.

If a fund uses short selling, this is detailed in the strategy of the fund.

Additional important information about short selling risk is provided on page 24.

Gearing risk

Some of the funds in the PDS use gearing.

Gearing means the fund borrows so that it can invest more to increase potential gains. Gearing can magnify gains and always magnifies losses from the fund's investments.

For a fund geared at 50%, if the market rise is less than the fund's borrowing and management costs, then it is unlikely that the geared fund will outperform an equivalent ungeared portfolio. Consequently, a geared fund will not always magnify market gains (particularly in a low return environment), but it will always magnify market losses.

In extreme market conditions, such as a rapid fall of over 40% in the value of investments you may lose all your capital.

We suggest you consult a financial adviser regarding the impact of these investments on your overall portfolio.

Additional important information about gearing risk is provided on page 24.

All of the funds in this PDS are subject to some or all of these risks which can also vary from time to time. You should consult your financial adviser before making a decision to invest. Your financial adviser is required to be qualified in understanding the risk and return associated with the wide range of investment funds available to you and can help you make decisions regarding these funds.

Are there any other risks you should be aware of?

When investing, there is the possibility that your investment goals will not be met. This can happen because of the risks discussed previously. It can also happen if your chosen investment strategy is not aligned to your objectives and timeframes.

How should you determine your investment timeframe?

Your financial adviser can help you determine your investment timeframe.

If you are mainly concerned about protecting your capital over a relatively short period of time, then a secure, cash-based investment may be the most suitable. However, if you want the value of your investment to increase over a longer period, then growth assets like shares and property are likely to feature prominently in your investment portfolio.

Although we have suggested minimum investment timeframes together with the Standard Risk Measure associated with each particular investment, you should regularly review your investment decision with your financial adviser because your investment needs or market conditions may change over time. Our minimum suggested timeframes and the Standard Risk Measure associated with particular investments should not be considered personal advice.

What are the main asset classes?

Shares represent a part ownership of a company and are generally bought and sold on a stock exchange. Shares are generally considered to be more risky than the other asset classes because their value tends to fluctuate more than that of other asset classes. However, over the longer term they have tended to outperform the other asset classes.

Cash generally refers to investments in bank bills, money market and similar securities which have a short investment timeframe. Cash investments generally provide a stable return, with low potential for capital loss.

Fixed interest securities such as bonds, generally operate in the same way as loans. You pay cash for the bond and in return you receive a regular interest payment from the bond issuer for an agreed period of time. The value of the bond can fluctuate based on interest rate movements. When the bond matures, the loan is repaid in cash. Historically, bonds have provided a more consistent but lower return than shares.

Risk measure categories

Below is a table that outlines our labelling of risk measures and categories.

2	Low	0.5 to less than 1
3	Low to Medium	1 to less than 2
4	Medium	2 to less than 3
5	Medium to High	3 to less than 4
6	High	4 to less than 6
7	Very High	6 or greater

Reading the investment funds

The example below describes how to understand the funds

Objective
This fund's overall objective and the term in which the manager aims to achieve it.

Investment fund name
Name of the investment.

Strategy
Describes the overall strategy of the fund and how money within the fund is invested.

Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund

Objective To maximise risk-adjusted, long-term returns by investing in undervalued stocks and short selling overvalued stocks from around the world, while carefully controlling portfolio risk and transaction costs. The fund aims to outperform the MSCI World Index over rolling four-year periods before fees and taxes. Minimum suggested timeframe At least 7 years Risk 	Strategy The fund's investment strategy is based on the belief that markets are inefficient, creating price anomalies that can be exploited by a disciplined, objective investment process. Acadian's investment approach employs structured stock and peer group valuation models, which are designed to capture a broad range of relevant characteristics such as quality, value, earnings growth and price-related factors. This aims to systematically unearth securities with unrecognised value, as well as improving earnings prospects to help unlock that value. Undervalued stocks will be purchased, while stocks that are expensive relative to their peers or have recently had their earnings estimates reduced will be selectively short sold. The fund will target a gross long exposure of 130% and a gross short exposure of 30% (130/30). The fund does not hedge currency risk.	Allocation

Allocation

The asset allocation refers to the proportion of a fund that is invested in each asset class such as shares, property securities, fixed interest and cash. The asset allocation will vary at different points in time. The benchmark allocation reflects the proportion of each asset class that a manager aims to hold within the fund. The range reflects the minimum and maximum amount that may be held in each asset class at any point in time.

Standard Risk Measure

We have adopted the Standard Risk Measure (SRM), which is based on industry guidance to allow investors to compare investment funds that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20-year period (as outlined in the table above). The SRM for each fund is also a measure of the risk objective of the fund. It is a measure of the expected variability of the return of the fund.

The SRM is not a complete assessment of all forms of investment risk; for instance, it does not detail what the size of a negative return could be or the potential for a positive return to be less than an investor may require to meet their objectives. Further, it does not take into account the impact of administration fees and tax on the likelihood of a negative return.

Investors should still ensure they are comfortable with the risks and potential losses associated with their chosen investment funds. The SRM should not be considered personal advice. Investors should regularly review their investment decision with their financial adviser.

More detail on risks which may affect your investment is included in the 'Risks' section on pages 5 to 7.

Minimum suggested timeframe

Investment professionals will have differing views about the minimum investment period you should hold various investments, and your own personal circumstances will also affect your decision. Under the investment objective we have suggested a minimum investment timeframe; however, you should regularly review your investment decision with your financial adviser because your investment needs or market conditions may change over time. The minimum suggested investment timeframe should not be considered personal advice.

A guide to your investment fund risk profile

The main risks which can typically affect your investment in a fund are outlined on pages 5 to 7. In addition to the general risks (ie market risk, security and investment-specific risk, management risk, liquidity risk, counterparty risk, legal, regulatory and foreign investment risk, environmental, social and governance (ESG) and climate risk and distribution risk) further fund-specific risks are described. The table below identifies funds that typically have exposure to these fund-specific risks. Please note that the table is not exhaustive and is a reference guide only. The relative importance of a risk to a particular fund and whether or not a fund-specific risk is applicable may differ from the table below and change from time to time. Funds can have exposure to a fund-specific risk at or after the date of this issue, and this may not be reflected in the table. Further details on fund-specific risks are contained on pages 6, 23 and 24.

Additional disclosure required for hedge funds and other complex funds

Hedge funds and funds with certain hedge fund characteristics can pose more complex risks for investors than traditional managed investment schemes. This can arise due to their diverse investment strategies, in many cases involving the use of leverage and complex and offshore structures.

The Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) has identified some characteristics that distinguish hedge funds from other managed investment schemes in its Regulatory Guide 240, such as the use of leverage, derivatives and short selling, charging performance fees, or funds that have complex investment strategies or structures.

Where a fund exhibits two or more of the characteristics defined, ASIC now requires responsible entities to provide additional reporting and disclosure.

We will provide this additional reporting and disclosure for the following funds:

- Acadian Wholesale Australian Equity Long Short
- Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short.

For the funds identified, we will report against the following benchmarks as required by ASIC:

- valuation of assets: information about whether assets which are not exchange-traded are valued by an independent administrator or an independent valuation service provider, and
- periodic reporting.

Where we can't provide all the components of the periodic reporting benchmark, we will explain why we can't and the types of information which will be provided instead so that you can monitor the investment performance of your investment.

In addition, for the funds identified, we will provide the following information in the Reference Guide – Complex Funds, available online at colonialfirststate.com.au/complex. This information will be updated from time to time, in accordance with our legal obligations.

Acadian Wholesale Australian Market Neutral Fund

ALTERNATIVES

Objective

To provide investment returns in excess of the Reserve Bank of Australia cash rate over rolling three-year periods before fees and taxes. This will be achieved by combining cash with long and short Australian equity holdings chosen using Acadian's Australian equity investment process. Sophisticated portfolio construction techniques will be used to implement this in a way that limits equity market exposure.

Minimum suggested timeframe

At least 5 years

Risk

Strategy

The fund's strategy is to adopt an active approach to managing a portfolio of cash as well as stocks listed on the Australian Securities Exchange. The fund will seek to provide returns by taking long and short positions in securities generally listed on the Australian Securities Exchange. The portfolio will target an exposure of 100% long positions, 100% short positions. The net market exposure of this component will be targeted at 0%. The long/short structure aims to minimise equity market risk whilst benefiting from franking credits and Acadian Australia's sophisticated analytical models for stock selection.

Important information on short selling risk is provided on pages 6 and 24.

SPECIALIST SHARE

Objective

To maximise risk-adjusted, long-term returns by investing in undervalued stocks and short selling overvalued stocks listed on the Australian Securities Exchange while carefully controlling portfolio risk and transaction costs. The fund aims to outperform the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index over rolling four-year periods before fees and taxes.

Minimum suggested timeframe

At least 7 years

Risk

Strategy

The fund's investment strategy is based on the belief that markets are inefficient, creating price anomalies that can be exploited by a disciplined, objective investment process. Acadian Australia's investment approach employs structured stock and peer group valuation models, which are designed to capture a broad range of relevant characteristics such as quality, value, earnings growth and price-related factors. This aims to systematically unearth securities with unrecognised value, as well as improving earnings prospects to help unlock that value. Stocks that Acadian Australia believes are undervalued will be purchased, and overvalued stocks will be selectively short sold. The fund will target a gross long exposure of 130% and a gross short exposure of 30% (130/30).

Important information on short selling risk is provided on pages 6 and 24.

Acadian Wholesale Geared Australian Equity Fund

Objective To maximise long-term returns by borrowing to invest, predominantly in a selection of Australian companies within the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index, while carefully controlling portfolio risk and transaction costs. The fund aims to outperform the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index over rolling seven year periods before fees and taxes.	Strategy The fund uses gearing with the aim of magnifying returns from the underlying Australian equity strategy. Fees and other costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You may be able to negotiate to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable.¹ Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the managed investment scheme as a whole.

These fees do not include any fees that may be charged by the IDPS operator where an investment is made through an IDPS.

Taxes are set out in another part of this document.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

Fees and costs for particular funds are set out on page 14.

Management costs

The terms 'management costs' and 'management fees' mean different things.

Management costs include management fees, estimated performance-related fees (if applicable), investment expenses and custody fees. Management costs are deducted from the performance of the fund (ie they are not charged directly to your account). These costs may be incurred directly by the fund or within an underlying investment vehicle. They do not include contribution fees, transaction costs or additional service fees. The management costs for each fund are either an estimate or based on current financial information. They are expressed as a percentage of each fund's net assets and, together with any applicable buy/sell spreads, are outlined in the table above.

Management fees are the fees payable under the Constitution for the management of each fund. Management fees are calculated from gross assets of the fund. For details of the maximum management fees allowed under the Constitution, refer to 'Increases and alterations to the fees' on page 15.

Example of annual fees and costs for a balanced investment option or other investment option

This table gives an example of how fees and costs in the Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short for this managed investment product can affect your investment over a one-year period.

You should use this table to compare this product with other managed investment products.

Example – Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund		Balance of $50,000 with a contribution of $5,000 during year
Contribution fees	0%	For every additional $5,000 you put in, you will be charged $0.
PLUS
Management costs	1.67% pa	And , for every $50,000 you have in the Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund you will be charged $835 each year.
EQUALS
Cost of Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund		If you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during that year, you will be charged fees of: $918.50 What it costs you will depend on the fund you choose and the fees you negotiate.

These figures are inclusive of the net effect of GST.

Additional fees may apply:

Establishment fee: $0.

And, if you leave the managed investment scheme early, you may also be charged exit fees of 0% of your total account balance.

Please note that this is just an example. In practice, the actual investment balance of an investor will vary daily and the actual fees and expenses we charge are based on the applicable fees and costs and value of the fund, which also fluctuates daily.

Buy/sell spreads also apply.

Refer to the management costs and buy/sell spreads table on page 14.

- 1 Refer to Performance fee on page 15 for more details on the calculation of performance fees and how performance fees have been estimated in the assessment of management costs. This estimate is generally based on the performance of the fund over the 12 months to 30 June 2019 and the associated performance fee. As past performance is no indicator of future performance, the performance fee charged in the future may differ.
- 2 The two figures shown above for the fund are based on the gross (g) assets (which includes the fund's borrowings (as at 30 June 2019) and is the lower of the two fees) and on net (n) assets (which excludes the fund's borrowings and is the higher of the two fees). For this fund, we are not remunerated by way of a cash fee. Instead, each month we receive units in the fund at no cost consideration for managing the fund. Please note: Borrowings include any exposure to borrowings from a fund investing directly or indirectly into another managed investment scheme which borrows.
- 3 Transaction costs depend on the specific gearing level of the fund.
- 4 This fund has not been in existence for 12 months. For this fund, this is an estimated management cost.

Performance-related fees

Performance-related fees are payable from some investment funds if the investment returns of the fund, or a portion of the fund's investments, exceed specified targets.

Other performance-related fees apply to some funds where the fee is based on the performance of a portion of the fund's investments.

The table on page 14 shows which funds are subject to performance-related fees.

Performance-related fees increase the management costs for the relevant fund. Performance-related fees are reflected in the daily unit price and are paid monthly at the relevant rate (inclusive of the net effect of GST).

The fee is calculated as a percentage rate of the relevant investment return outperformance. The outperformance is the percentage return above the relevant benchmark.

Performance-related fees disclosed in this PDS are estimates only. The actual amounts paid may be greater or less than the amounts disclosed.

For funds with a performance-related fee, the following tables show how the fee is calculated.

PERFORMANCE FEE AFTER MANAGEMENT FEES

Fund name	Benchmark	Base management fee (pa) ⁵	Performance-related fee rate ⁶
Acadian Wholesale Australian Equity Long Short Fund	S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index	1.10%	15%
Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund	MSCI World Index	1.25%	15%

Dollar fee example – performance-related fees (after management fees) for the Acadian Wholesale Australian Equity Long Short

Assumptions for this example: 2.00% return before management fees above the relevant benchmark, $50,000 investment, performance-related fee rate of 15% and a management fee of 1.10% pa (excluding other operating expenses).

Management cost calculation		Amount
Management cost: (excluding performance-related fee)	1.11% pa	$555
Plus
Performance-related fee example: 15% × (2.00% – 1.10%)	0.135% pa	$67.50
Management cost (including performance-related fee)	1.245% pa	$622.50 inclusive of the net effect of GST

Please note that this is just an example. In practice, the actual performance-related fee will depend on the fund, the return of the fund and the investment balance.

Sometimes the calculation of the performance-related fee will result in a negative dollar amount (negative performance-related fee). This negative performance-related fee is offset against any entitlement to future performance-related fees. We do not have to reimburse the fund for negative performance. In extreme circumstances (e.g. if the net outflow from the fund is more than 10% in one month) the negative performance-related fee which is offset may be reduced pro rata with the percentage of net outflow.

However, if there is a change to the fund, such as a change of manager or investment strategy, the performance-related fee for the new fund will be based on the rates prescribed in the tables above and will not take into account any negative performance-related fee for the previous period.

It is also possible for the investment manager to exceed the relevant benchmark (and therefore be entitled to a performance-related fee) even where a fund has had negative performance over a period, as that fund may have performed better, relative to the benchmark.

Colonial First State may keep some of the performance-related fee. For periods of high outperformance, the performance-related fee may be substantial. We recommend you discuss this with your financial adviser to understand the impact of the performance-related fee.

The maximum performance-related fee rate for the funds with performance-related fees as provided for under the Constitutions, are outlined in the table below:

Fund name	Maximum performance fee rate
Acadian Wholesale Australian Equity Long Short Fund	15.00%
Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund	15.00%

These figures are inclusive of the net effect of GST.

Increases or alterations to the fees

We may vary the management fee used to calculate the management costs set out on page 14 at any time at our absolute discretion, without your consent, within the limits prescribed in each fund's Constitution. If the variation is an increase in a fee or charge, we will give you at least 30 days prior written notice.

The Constitution of each fund provides for a maximum management fee of 3.075% pa.

Please note: The maximums are provided for information and is not the current fee charged. The current fees are shown in the table on page 14.

Additionally, you may choose to pay an adviser service fee.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are the costs of buying and selling assets directly or indirectly held by a fund, and may include brokerage, government taxes/duties/levies, bank charges, custodian charges on transactions and the buy/sell spread of any underlying funds.

If the amount payable to acquire an investment exceeds the price that it would be disposed of at that time, the difference is also a transaction cost.

Transaction costs are an additional cost to you, but no part of a transaction cost (including the buy/sell spread) is paid to us or an investment manager. Transaction costs are usually paid for from the assets directly or indirectly held by a fund at the time of the transaction.

⁵ This rate is inclusive of the net effect of GST.

⁶ The return on the fund includes total income grossed up by the amounts of Australian franking credits.

Buy/sell spreads

For most funds, there is a difference between the unit price used to issue and redeem units and the value of the fund's assets. This difference is due to what is called the buy/sell spread. When you (or any person you have authorised) invest or withdraw all or part of your investment in these funds, we use the buy/sell spread to pay for the transaction costs incurred as a result of the transaction. We use the buy/sell spread to allocate these transaction costs to the investor transacting rather than other investors in the fund.

A fund's buy/sell spread is set to reflect the estimated transaction costs the fund will incur as a result of investor transactions.

The buy/sell spread that applies to each fund is shown in the table on page 14.

Please note: The buy/sell spreads are not paid to us or the investment manager. They are paid to the fund and can be altered at any time and may be altered without prior notice to you.

Example: The buy/sell spread for the Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund is currently 0.15%. If you make a $50,000 investment in or withdrawal from the Acadian Wholesale Global Equity Long Short Fund you will incur a buy/sell spread of $75.

Other transaction costs

Not all transaction costs are funded from the buy/sell spread. One reason for this is that a fund may buy or sell assets even though there have been no investor transactions. Additional transaction costs may be incurred either in the fund or in underlying funds and these will reduce the returns of the fund.

The 'estimated total transaction costs' for each fund, for the 12 months to 30 June 2019, 'estimated recovery amount' from the buy/sell spread and the 'estimated net transactional costs' which reduce the returns on the fund are set out in the table on page 16.

Other operating expenses and abnormal costs

The Constitution for each fund allows for the ongoing operating costs, charges, expenses and properly incurred outgoings (such as registry, trust accounting, investment, audit, regulatory, production of the offer documents and taxation advice) and other administration costs, charges and expenses to be paid directly from the fund. Alternatively, the responsible entity is entitled to recover these costs from the fund.

The Constitution does not place any limit on these costs that can be paid from each fund.

Abnormal costs (such as costs of unitholder meetings, recovery and realisation of assets, changes to the Constitution and defending or pursuing legal proceedings) are paid out of the fund. These costs are incurred fairly infrequently.

Borrowing costs

The borrowing costs in the table above include all costs of borrowing such as interest, legal fees and other related costs. These costs may be in relation to short-term settlement borrowing, borrowing to achieve investment objectives (including geared funds) and the cost of securities borrowing. These costs are deducted at least monthly from the relevant fund's unit price. They are an additional cost to investors.

Where short-term settlement borrowing or borrowing for underlying funds occurs (including geared funds), borrowing costs such as interest on borrowings, legal fees and other related costs are payable by those funds.

For direct investors

What is paid to your adviser?

The adviser recommending this product may receive from us certain non-monetary benefits allowed under law (soft dollar). Under our obligations pursuant to the Corporations Act 2001 and the Financial Services Council Code of Practice, we keep a record of soft dollar payments which we are entitled to make to dealer groups or advisers. Please contact us if you would like to view this register.

Dealer groups and other licensees who have an arrangement with us may receive remuneration from us to the extent that it is permitted under law. This remuneration will be paid out of the fees we derive from you that are indicated in the table on page 14 in a given year. If these amounts are paid, they are paid by us from our revenue and are not an extra amount paid from the fund, nor are they a further amount you pay.

Adviser service fee

You can also agree with your financial adviser to pay an optional ongoing adviser service fee, for advice services in relation to your investment. We will generally deduct adviser service fees from your most conservative investment fund unless you nominate a particular fund.

Adviser service fees are only applicable if:

- you consent to their payment
- the ongoing advice and services are for you only
- they are of a reasonable amount for the advice and services that you receive

Ongoing adviser service fees

We will deduct and pay any ongoing adviser service fee to your current, or any subsequent, adviser on your account. You can update the adviser on your account at any time. You can re-negotiate the adviser service fee with your adviser or ask us to remove an ongoing adviser service fee at any time.

Ongoing adviser service fee can be a percentage of your account value and/or a set dollar amount. You can also choose to increase any ongoing set dollar amount by a percentage based on the Consumer Price Index (up to a maximum of 3%).¹ Please nominate this on your application form

We calculate and deduct the fees on a monthly basis (usually within the first five business days of the following month).

We can only deduct the adviser service fee from one of your funds. The fees will appear on your regular statements.

One-off adviser service fee

A one-off adviser service fee can also apply as a set dollar amount. You can choose to deduct this one-off fee from one or all of your funds. Where you choose to deduct the fee from all of your funds, we will apply the fee proportionally on the day of the deduction. We will deduct any one-off fees within the first five business days of the following month.

We may reduce or refuse to deduct an adviser service fee or refuse to record or deal with your adviser at any time. We set limits on the amount of adviser service fees based on your account balance. Where your fees are outside of these limits, we will reduce or remove the fee. We will notify you and your adviser if this occurs. You and your adviser may discuss an alternative means for payment or changes to the ongoing services you will receive. Your adviser must disclose details of the adviser service fee in the Statement of Advice or other related advice documentation, such as a Record of Advice.

Your adviser may also provide you with an annual Fee Disclosure Statement (where a fee is deducted from your account for more than 12 months). This statement outlines certain fees that you pay for the advice and services your adviser provides to you. You may also need to re-authorise (opt-in to) the ongoing fees. If you do not re-authorise, your adviser must immediately stop charging the fees.

You should discuss the services your adviser will provide to you in return for the fees you pay. If you want to know how much you are paying in fees to your adviser, you can visit FirstNet to view your transaction history. Alternatively, you can contact us directly.

This remuneration will be paid out of the fees we derive from you that are indicated in the table on page 14 in a given year. If these amounts are paid, they are paid by us from our revenue and are not an extra amount paid from the fund, nor are they a further amount you pay.

Your adviser may also receive remuneration from the IDPS operator in a variety of ways for the provision of services. Details of this remuneration will be in the offer documents for the master trust or wrap account and the Financial Services Guide and Statement of Advice which your financial adviser must give you.

Such arrangements would be subject to individual negotiation, compliance with legal requirements and any applicable ASIC class orders.

Receiving income

Any income that you receive from your investment will be in the form of distributions.
Your distribution may include income such as interest, dividends and realised capital gains.

Distributions are based on the number of units you hold in a particular fund, in proportion to the number of units held by all unitholders, at the distribution date. You must hold units on the day prior to any distributions being paid in order to be eligible for a distribution.

Distributions are not pro-rated for investors who were not unitholders for the whole period. The type of income you receive depends on the asset classes in which each fund invests.

Fund category	Distribution frequency
Alternatives	Quarterly (September, December, March and June)
Specialist share and Geared ²	Half-yearly (December and June)

Distributions are calculated on 30 June and generally the last Sunday of the month they fall due, and are normally paid within 14 days to you or your IDPS operator if you are investing through an IDPS. The dates on which distributions are calculated are available online or by calling Investor Services on 13 13 36.

In some circumstances, we may vary the distribution timing and frequency without notice to investors (for example, to take into account days that fall on a public holiday).

What are your distribution choices?

You can choose to have your distributions:

- automatically reinvested, with no contribution fee or transaction costs payable. The additional units are purchased using the net asset value per unit applicable immediately after the distribution, or
- directly credited to your Australian financial institution account.

Please nominate your choice on your application form.

If you do not make a choice, then your distributions will be automatically reinvested. If the bank account details you have supplied for your distributions are invalid, then after making reasonable attempts to contact you, we will reinvest the distributions back into your existing investment funds within 28 days.

If you are an indirect investor, complete the documents which the IDPS operator requires.

In extraordinary circumstances, where a fund is suspended, restricted, or unavailable, we may not permit some or all of the income distributions to be reinvested

What happens if you invest just before a distribution?

Please note that the unit price will fall by the amount of any distribution (per unit) immediately after the distribution is paid.

If you or your IDPS operator invests just prior to a distribution, then that distribution effectively represents a return of your investment.

Depending on your circumstances, this may have certain taxation implications and we recommend that you speak with a financial adviser or tax adviser to determine the impact of the distribution on your investment. Distribution dates should be checked prior to transacting on your account.

² Acadian Wholesale Geared Australian Equity Fund distributes income Quarterly (September, December, March and June).

Transactions and unit pricing

How are your transactions processed?

Applications

To ensure that your application is processed efficiently, it is important that you complete all sections of the application form and provide us with all documentation we request (refer to the application form checklist in the application forms section).

If you are an indirect investor, complete the documents which the IDPS operator requires to invest in the funds.

In the event that certain information is not provided, the following will apply:

- if no investment fund or an invalid fund is selected for deducting the adviser service fee, we will deduct from the first fund invested in, as outlined in the application forms section
- unless otherwise specified, additional deposits and applicable fees will be invested in line with your most recent transaction and/or a regular investment plan.

In certain situations, after receiving your application form (and related information), and application monies, we may not be able to proceed, for whatever reason, with your request, and issue the product immediately, until the required information is received. In these situations we may:

- attempt to contact you and/or your adviser (if applicable)
- hold your application monies in a trust account until we receive the required information. Any interest on these monies may be retained by us.

Funds are held for a maximum period of 30 days commencing on the day we receive the funds. After this period your funds will be returned to the source of payment.

When we receive your completed application, we deduct from your investment amount any applicable contribution fee. The balance will then be divided by the next determined entry unit price for that date.

For completed applications received in our offices prior to 3pm (Sydney time) on a NSW business day, the unit price used will be the one effective that day; completed applications received in our offices after 3pm (Sydney time) on a NSW business day will receive the following day's entry unit price. However, for funds received electronically, either by direct debit, EFT, BPAY or transfers from another institution, the unit price used will be the one effective the date the funds are received in our bank account.

In extraordinary circumstances, we may suspend or restrict applications and we may also reject applications at our discretion.

Withdrawals

This is a complex area and has tax implications. If you need further explanation regarding any of the terms used in this section, please discuss with your financial adviser.

Withdrawals cannot be processed until application monies are cleared and all necessary documentation is provided.

We reserve the right to delay a transaction where there may be a concern over its legitimacy or for the security of our investors.

If you are an indirect investor, complete the documents which the IDPS operator requires to make a withdrawal from the funds.

In the event that certain information is not provided, the following will apply:

- if no payment method is selected, a cheque will be provided
- payments can only be made to Australian financial institutions. Overseas accounts will not be accepted. If a request is made to transfer funds to an overseas account, a cheque will be provided.

When we receive your completed withdrawal request, together with any documentation that we may require to establish your identity, the proceeds are calculated at the next determined exit unit price.

Withdrawals are normally processed within seven working days of receiving a request from the IDPS operator. Longer periods may apply from time to time. Where a fund is suspended, restricted or unavailable, we may not process withdrawal requests. Further, where a fund is not liquid, we cannot allow investors to withdraw from the fund unless we make an offer to withdraw. There is no obligation for us to make such an offer and if we do, investors may only be able to withdraw part of their investment. Any decisions whether to process withdrawals or partial withdrawals will be made in the best interests of investors as a whole, and if any payment is to be made, then the exit price used to calculate this payment will be the one determined at the time the payment is made.

You should note that unless an investment fund is suspended, restricted or unavailable, you may withdraw from an investment fund in accordance with our normal processes.

Transaction cut-off times

If your completed transaction request is received in our office before 3pm (Sydney time) on a NSW business day, it will be processed that day using the next determined unit price.

If your completed transaction request is received after the cut-off time shown above, your transaction will be processed on the following NSW business day.

Transaction processing and unit prices

We calculate unit prices each NSW business day. If your valid investment or withdrawal request is received by the relevant cut-off time, you will receive the next determined unit price.

The next determined unit price for any NSW business day is calculated at the close of trading of all markets on that day. Therefore, the next determined unit price is not known until the following business day. It is important to consider this when making your transaction request.

Please note: If you ask for a unit price or investment valuation, we can provide an historical unit price or investment valuation only.

How are unit prices calculated?

When you invest, you are allocated a number of units in each fund you have selected.

Each of these units represents an equal part of the market value of the portfolio of investments that the fund holds. As a result, each unit has a dollar value, or 'unit price'.

All funds are valued daily. The unit price is calculated by taking the total market value of all of a fund's assets on a particular day, adjusting for any liabilities and then dividing the net fund value by the total number of units held by all investors on that day. Although your unit balance in the fund will stay constant (unless there is a transaction on your account), the unit price will change according to changes in the market value of the investment portfolio or the total number of units issued for the fund. We determine the market value of the fund based on the information we have most recently available.

We may exercise certain discretions that could affect the unit price of units on application or withdrawal in each fund. The types of discretions that we may exercise, in what circumstances, our policies on how we exercise the discretions and the reasons why we consider our policies are reasonable, are set out in our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy. If we exercise a discretion in a way that departs from the policies set out in our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy, we are required to keep a record of this in a Register of Exceptions. You can obtain a copy of our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy or Register of Exceptions, or both, free of charge, by calling us on 13 13 36.

What is the difference between entry and exit unit prices?

There may be a difference between the entry and exit unit price for each fund, quoted on any business day. This difference relates to the fund's buy/sell spread.

So existing investors do not continually bear the transaction costs resulting from new investments or withdrawals that you make, all investors pay a set, average amount (a buy/sell spread) when they transact. This is calculated according to the particular types of investments the fund holds. Not all new investments or withdrawals cause transaction costs to be incurred by the fund, for example, where an investment does not incur any significant costs, or when a new investment coincides with a withdrawal by someone else. However, to be consistent, we generally apply buy/sell spreads to all new investments and withdrawals from the fund. Refer to page 14 for the buy/sell spreads that apply to each fund.

Unit pricing adjustment policy

There are a number of factors used to calculate unit prices. The key factors include asset valuations, liabilities, debtors, the number of units on issue and, where relevant, transaction costs. When the factors used to calculate the unit price are incorrect, an adjustment to the unit price may be required. We generally use a variance of 0.30% in the unit price before correcting the unit price.

If a unit pricing error is greater than or equal to this variance, we will:

- compensate your account balance if you have transacted on the incorrect unit price or make other adjustments as we may consider appropriate, or
- where your account is closed, we will send you a payment if the amount of the adjustment is more than $20.

These tolerance levels are consistent with regulatory practice guidelines and industry standards. In some cases we may compensate where the unit pricing error is less than the tolerance levels.

Investment information

Currency risk

How is currency risk managed?

Changes in the value of the Australian dollar lead to a difference between the foreign currency returns or the value of the global investments held by a fund and those returns or values expressed in Australian dollars. This is known as foreign currency risk. Currency is not an asset class and therefore does not give a fund either natural long-term growth or an income stream. Rather, currency exposure gives rise to a source of potential volatility of returns – both positive and negative.

Financial instruments can be used to reduce currency risk – this is known as hedging. Hedging is a process where exposure to one currency can be reduced or removed by entering into a transaction that offsets that exposure. If a fund is unhedged, then any foreign currency investments the fund holds are fully exposed to movements in the Australian dollar, which can have a positive or negative effect on the value of the fund.

Whether a fund is hedged or unhedged is disclosed under each fund's strategy in the investment information section on pages 11 to 12.

The extent to which a fund is hedged depends on the underlying objectives and risk characteristics of the fund. The extent of hedging may also vary over time depending on the value of the Australian dollar.

In funds that hedge currency risk, movements in the Australian dollar can impact the size of distributions that you receive. Generally, a rising Australian dollar will produce gains on the currency hedge and increase the distribution, while a falling Australian dollar will produce currency losses that reduce the distribution.

For more information on how we manage currency, please see the information flyer 'Managing currency risk', available at colonialfirststate.com.au or by calling us on 13 13 36.

Short selling risk

What is short selling, a short position and a long position?

Short selling is selling a security you do not own. By short selling a security, a fund attempts to profit from a decrease in the value of the security. Generally, short selling involves borrowing a security from another party to make the sale with the intention of repaying the borrowed security at a later date with an equivalent security purchased at a lower price. A fund may use short selling as a strategy to try to improve returns and to manage risk.

A short position is a net position in a security that profits from a decrease in the value of the security. This can be achieved by short selling.

A long position is a net position in a security that profits from an increase in the value of the security. Generally, an investor adopts long positions by buying securities. If a fund uses short selling, it is detailed in the strategy of the fund.

Emerging markets risk

Investing in emerging markets may involve a higher risk than investing in more developed markets. Emerging market securities may present market, credit, currency, liquidity, legal, political and other risks different from, and potentially greater than, the risks of investing in developed market countries.

For example, companies in emerging markets may not be subject to:

- accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, practices and disclosure requirements comparable to those applicable to companies in major markets
- the same level of government supervision and regulation of stock exchanges as countries with more advanced securities markets.

Accordingly, certain emerging markets may not afford the same level of investor protection as would apply in more developed jurisdictions. There are also risks that, while existing in all countries, may be higher in emerging markets due to the legal, political, business and social frameworks being less developed than those in more established market economies.

Examples of higher risks include:

- political or social instability (including recession or war)
- institutional manipulation of currency or capital flows
- deflation, inflation, or loss in value of currency, and
- greater sensitivity to interest rates and commodity prices.

As a result, investment returns from emerging market securities are usually more volatile than those from developed markets.

This means that there may be large movements in the unit prices of investment options that invest in emerging market securities over short or long periods of time.

You should consider whether a fund that invests in emerging market securities is suitable for your portfolio.

Gearing risk

Additional information on geared funds

The aim of gearing is to produce a larger investment return over the long term by using borrowed money in addition to your own funds. The geared funds in the PDS are 'internally geared', which means that the funds borrow the money instead of you borrowing directly.

The benefits of internally geared funds are that they are able to borrow at institutional rates, there are no margin calls and you do not need to apply for a loan or offer security. Importantly, we will not ask investors to provide additional funds to meet borrowing costs or to repay debt. All obligations are met within the fund itself.

Some investors, such as superannuation funds or their trustees, may find it difficult to borrow in their own name, and therefore cannot use standard margin loans. Internally geared funds permit such investors to gain leveraged exposure to a selected asset class.

Where do geared funds borrow from?

The geared funds raise money either by issuing notes or bonds in Australian or international capital markets, and/or by borrowing at competitive rates from a large number of international and Australian financial institutions. Interest and related borrowing costs are paid by the funds. Providers of funding have priority over fund investors for interest and principal repayments. Providers of funding earn interest and may receive reimbursements relating to early repayments, dealer fees, legal expenses, government charges, account transaction fees and undrawn commitment fees.

How does the gearing work in the geared funds?

Colonial First State is responsible for the gearing of the Acadian Wholesale Geared Australian Equity Fund and the Acadian Wholesale Geared Global Equity Fund, allowing the investment manager to focus on managing the funds' investments. These funds are managed using 'fixed gearing'. Fixed gearing uses a target gearing level, with a defined tolerance either side of this level. The target gearing level for these funds are 55%, with a usual tolerance of 5%.

We will not borrow additional amounts when the gearing is at the target level, but the gearing ratio may rise above the target due to declines in asset values or redemptions. If the gearing ratio exceeds the target level by more than the tolerance of 5%, we take the gearing back below this level within a reasonable amount of time by repaying debt.

In the event of the gearing ratio exceeding 75%, we will suspend the processing of redemption requests until the gearing has decreased to below this level.

Return expectations of a geared fund

The aim of gearing is to produce a higher return over the long term by using borrowed money in addition to your funds. However, for a fund geared at 50%, if the underlying investments rise is less than the fund's borrowing and management costs, then it is unlikely that the geared fund will outperform an equivalent ungeared portfolio.

Consequently, a geared fund will not always magnify market gains in a low return environment, although it will always magnify market losses. Refer to 'Gearing risk' on page 7 of this PDS.

Do the funds borrow?

The funds do not borrow except for short-term arrangements for settlement purposes or if an emergency or extraordinary situation arises.

Borrowing can only occur in line with a fund's investment strategy. If a fund borrows, this is detailed in the strategy of the fund.

Are labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations taken into account?

As the Responsible Entity, we don't specifically take into account labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations for the purpose of selecting, retaining or realising the investment funds. We do not directly manage the investments however we do have a robust governance process for assessing the capabilities of each investment manager. This process includes consideration of an investment manager's approach to assessing the effect that climate change and environmental, social, governance (ESG) issues may have on the investments of each fund.

Each investment manager may have its own policy on the extent to which labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations are taken into account in their investment process and some funds do take one or more of these factors into account.

Due to the labour, environmental and social risks associated with the production of tobacco and controversial weapons, from 1 January 2020, we will no longer allow investment managers to invest in securities issued by companies who operate in these industries. There may, from time to time, be a small level of unintended exposure through indirect investment or index derivatives.

What investments can the funds hold?

The Constitution of each fund allows us a great deal of discretion about what investments are held in the funds. The investments intended to be held are outlined in the strategy of the funds. If we decide to change, we will advise you as soon as practicable. The Bank, our parent company, is listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX). We are permitted to hold shares in the Bank under ASIC relief on certain conditions which include that any such holding is not voted and the total holdings for all entities in the Bank Group do not exceed 5% of the issued capital of the Bank.

What is the meaning of allocation?

Each fund invests in direct assets according to the investment fund's objectives. Allocation refers to how each fund is ultimately invested in other funds, direct assets, sectors and/or pools. The day-to-day allocations may vary slightly from those shown.

Within their allocations to listed securities, some of the funds may purchase unlisted securities on the basis that the securities will list in the future.

Further details on the securities the fund can hold are outlined in the strategy of the funds on pages 11 to 12.

Changes to investment funds

Colonial First State may, without prior notice to investors, change the investment objective and/or strategy; add, close or terminate an investment fund; or change an investment manager.

Any change would be considered in light of the potential negative or positive impact on investors.

We will notify existing investors in affected funds of any material change as soon as practicable.

Updated information that is not materially adverse can be obtained by calling Investor Services on 13 13 36 or by visiting our website, colonialfirststate.com.au. A paper copy of the updated information will be provided free of charge on request.

How are the funds structured?

When you invest in the funds, your money is combined with other investors' money in a managed investment scheme. Each fund is a separate managed investment scheme.

Inter-funding

We may invest directly or indirectly in other managed investment schemes managed by us to gain exposure and administrative efficiencies.

Taxation and regulatory

How is your investment taxed?

General taxation information has been provided for you in this PDS. However, because the Australian taxation system is complex and different investors have different circumstances, you should consider seeking professional taxation advice before investing in the funds.

You may be required to pay tax in relation to your investment in a fund (generally income or capital gains tax); however, you may be able to claim some tax credits or receive the advantage of some tax concessions.

Some tax information has been provided for you below. However, although every care is taken, it is never possible to rule out the risk that on a subsequent review, taxation liabilities of each fund could be increased or the benefit of concessions reduced.

Because investors can move into and out of a fund at different points in time, there is a risk that taxation liabilities in respect of gains that have benefited past investors may have to be met by subsequent investors.

This tax information is current as at 3 February 2020.

The levels and basis of tax may change in the future. We will send you all the information you need each year in order for you to complete your tax return.

Will you be liable to pay tax on income distributions you receive from a fund?

You may, depending on your total level of taxable income and your income tax rate. This is the case whether the money is actually paid to you or reinvested. Any tax you pay depends on what makes up the attributed income. Attributed income could comprise:

- income (such as dividends and interest)
- net capital gains (from the sale of the fund's investments), and tax credits (such as franking credits attached to dividend income and credits for tax paid on foreign income).

Will you be liable for tax when you withdraw money from a fund?

You may, depending on your total level of taxable income and your income tax rate. Australian residents are generally subject to capital gains tax on gains when they withdraw from a fund or transfer units to another person or entity. Depending on the type of taxpayer you are defined as and how long you have held your units, you may be entitled to a capital gains tax concession which can reduce the liability by up to 50% if you are an individual or trust, or 33.33% if the investment is held by a complying superannuation entity.

Do you have to quote a Tax File Number (TFN) or an Australian Business Number (ABN)?

(Australian residents only)

Under law (Taxation Administration Act 1953) we can collect your TFN. You are not required by law to quote your TFN. However, without your TFN or appropriate exemption information, we are required to withhold tax at the highest marginal tax rate (plus Medicare and other applicable levies) on income attributed to you made to you. We will only use your TFN for lawful purposes (which are subject to legislative changes).

Non-residents

Non-residents may be subject to withholding tax on attributed income. The exact amount cannot be determined in advance because it varies depending upon the type of income. Generally, for the funds offered in this document, non-residents will not be subject to Australian tax on capital gains arising at redemption. However, non-residents seeking to invest should obtain tax advice on their specific circumstances.

Withholding

We may be required to withhold an amount from any payment to you to meet our obligations under foreign or domestic law, including those imposed pursuant to sections 1471 to 1474 of the United States Internal Revenue Code 1986 (FATCA).

Attribution Managed Investment Trusts (AMITs)

Our eligible Managed Investment Trusts (MITs) have elected into a taxation regime called Attribution Managed Investment Trust (AMIT) regime. A MIT that has elected into this regime is also referred to as an AMIT. All our eligible funds opted into the AMIT regime from 1 July 2017.

Under the AMIT regime, we will attribute income and tax offsets to you on a fair and reasonable basis. You will generally be assessed on this income and may be entitled to claim the tax offsets attributed to you.

The AMIT regime also provides you with the ability to adjust the cost base of your interest in the AMIT upwards or downwards where amounts attributed to you differ to the amounts that you have received as a cash distribution. This attribution information will be provided to you in an annual Tax Return Information Statement. This statement will detail member components of assessable income, capital gains, tax credits and other relevant information you should include in your tax return.

For more information, refer to 'Modifications to the Constitutions' available at our website at colonialfirststate.com.au/personal/products/products-and-update/managed-investment-trust.html

Constitutions of the funds

Each of the funds is governed by a Constitution (which is substantially the same for each fund). Together with the Corporations Act and some other laws, the Constitution sets out the conditions under which the fund operates and the rights, responsibilities, powers, discretions and duties of the responsible entity and investors. The Constitution deals with a number of issues including:

- your rights as a holder of units
- fund termination, and
- our broad powers to invest, borrow, receive fees and other payments and generally manage the fund.

The Constitution states that your liability is limited to the amount you paid for your units, but the courts are yet to determine the effectiveness of provisions of this kind.

You can inspect a copy of the Constitution at our head office or we will provide you with a copy free of charge.

The Constitution gives us a number of rights, including a number of discretions relating to unit pricing and fund termination. You can obtain a copy of our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy, free of charge, by calling us on 13 13 36.

We may alter the Constitution if we, as the responsible entity, reasonably consider the amendments will not adversely affect investors' rights. Otherwise, we must obtain investors' approval at a meeting of investors.

We may retire or be required to retire as responsible entity (if investors vote for our removal).

Your rights to requisition, attend and vote at meetings are mainly contained in the Corporations Act.

Custody

For most funds, a professional custodian generally holds the assets of each fund.

The custodian is appointed by Colonial First State and is responsible only to us.

The custodian may be changed from time to time and we may change the custodian where we are satisfied that the proposed new custodian meets all regulatory requirements.

You will not be notified of a change in custodian. If the custodian is another company in the Commonwealth Bank Group then we would have to:

- satisfy ASIC that we are able to separate each fund's assets from our own, and
- satisfy ourselves that holding each fund's assets in this way would be cost-effective for investors.

If you would like details of our custodian, please contact either the IDPS operator or us in the case of direct investors.

Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing laws and Sanctions laws

We are required to comply with these laws, including the need to establish your identity (and, if relevant, the identity of other persons associated with your account).

Instructions for completing the identification process are included with the application forms in this PDS.

Additionally, from time to time, we may require additional information to assist with this process. We may be required to report information about you to the relevant authorities. We may not be able to tell you when this occurs. We may not be able to transact with you or other persons. This may include delaying, blocking, freezing or refusing to process a transaction or ceasing to provide you with a product or service. Refer to the Terms and Conditions on page 30. This may impact on your investment and could result in a loss of income and principal invested.

Is there a cooling-off period?

A 14-day 'cooling-off period' will apply to your initial investment in the funds in certain circumstances. If, during the 14-day cooling-off period, you decide that the investment does not meet your needs, then simply advise us, or if you are an indirect investor, your IDPS operator in writing.

The 14 days start when your transaction confirmation is received by you or if you are an indirect investor, your IDPS operator, or five days after your units are issued, whichever is earlier.

We will refund your investment, reduced or increased for market movements (and, where relevant, once we have established your identity). We will also deduct any tax or duty incurred and an amount for reasonable transaction and administration costs we incur in relation to your investment in the funds, including determining your application.

As a result, the amount returned to you may be less than your original investment.

Please note that the cooling-off period will lapse if you transact on your account within 14 days. Under normal circumstances, refunds are made within seven working days of you, or the IDPS operator, notifying us (and where relevant, once we have established your identity). For more information, please call Investor Services on 13 13 36.

What to do if you have a complaint

If you are investing through an IDPS then complaints should be directed to the IDPS operator who will facilitate dispute resolution on your behalf.

We accept that sometimes we can get things wrong, and when this happens we're determined to make them right again.

Group members are able to analyse the data in order to gain useful insights which can be used for any of the purposes mentioned above.

In addition, Group members may provide data insights or related reports to others; for example, to help them understand their customers better. These are based on aggregated information and do not contain any information that identifies you.

Protecting your personal information

We comply with the Australian Privacy Principles as incorporated into the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

The Privacy Act protects your sensitive information, such as health information. When we need to obtain this type of information, we will ask for your consent, except where otherwise permitted by law.

We may be required to disclose customer information by law, eg under Court Orders or Statutory Notices pursuant to taxation or social security laws or under laws relating to sanctions, money laundering or terrorism financing.

Sending information overseas

From time to time, we may send your personal information overseas, including to overseas Group members and to service providers or other third parties who operate or hold data outside Australia. Where we do this, we make sure that appropriate data handling and security arrangements are in place. Please note that Australian law may not apply to some of these entities.

We may also send information overseas to complete a particular transaction or where this is required by laws and regulations of Australia or another country.

For more information about which countries your information may be sent to, see the Commonwealth Bank Group privacy policy, available at commbank.com.au

You can (subject to permitted exceptions) request access to your personal information by contacting Investor Services on 13 13 36.

We may charge you for providing access. For more information about our privacy and information handling practices, please refer to the Commonwealth Bank Group privacy policy, which is available through commbank.com.au or on request from any Commonwealth Bank branch.

Where you hold an account with one or more individuals, we will allow each individual access to their own personal information and to the joint information of the account, such as account balances and transaction details, but not to personal information of the other individual(s).

Making a privacy complaint

We accept that sometimes we can get things wrong. If you have a concern about your privacy, you have a right to make a complaint, and we'll do everything we can to put matters right. For further information on how to make a complaint and how we deal with your complaint, please refer to page 27.

Can you appoint an agent?

As an investor you are entitled to appoint an agent to act on your behalf. This person could be your financial adviser, solicitor, or someone else that you trust to act on your behalf. We will only accept your appointment of agent if, among other things, we have successfully established the identity of this agent. To do this you will need to complete an appointment of agent form.

If you have more than one agent or signatory and you are a non-individual investor (e.g. company, trust or other entity type), you can appoint a verifying officer to identify your agents or signatories. To appoint a verifying officer, you will need to complete the verifying officer form. Copies of these forms can be obtained from our website or by calling 13 13 36.

Please note that by appointing an agent to act on your behalf, you are giving that person full authority over your account.

What are our reporting requirements?

If any fund is a disclosing entity under the Corporations Act, the fund is subject to regular reporting and continuous disclosure obligations. Copies of documents we lodge with ASIC to fulfil these obligations may be obtained from, or inspected at, an ASIC office.

You also have a right to request a copy of certain documents from us when they become available, and we must send you a copy (free of charge) as soon as practicable and in any event within five days. Your request will be fulfilled in the way you choose – by email, or post, or you can collect it from our offices. The documents are:

- the annual financial report for the fund most recently lodged with ASIC, and
- any half-year financial report lodged with ASIC and any continuous disclosure notice given for the fund after the lodgement of the annual financial report for the fund and before the date of this document.

Are there any other benefits to Colonial First State?

The fund receives banking and treasury-related services from the Bank in the normal course of business and pays normal commercial fees for them. We may derive monetary or administrative benefits from the Bank as a consequence of maintaining bank accounts with the Bank and through performing administration services for Bank products.

Terms and conditions

These terms and conditions apply when you open an account with us and when you instruct us by phone, or electronically or when you access FirstNet. It is important that you read them carefully before you provide us with instructions so that you know what will apply to your transactions.

Limitation of liability

- All other representations and warranties relating to these services are excluded except for any term that is implied by law, which is taken to be included in these terms and conditions. To the extent permitted by law, our liability for breach of that term is limited to resupplying the service or paying the reasonable cost of having the service provided again. However, our liability may be greater where we are negligent or fraudulent, but this liability may be reduced to the extent that you caused or contributed to the loss.
- Subject to the paragraph above, to the extent permitted by law, we are not liable in any way for any losses that you suffer through using or supplying information electronically, by phone or FirstNet.
- You acknowledge and agree that we will not be liable to you for any loss you suffer (including consequential loss) caused by an inability to transact with you or other persons including where we comply with any law or legislation or choose to exercise a discretion available to us, including in circumstances where we reasonably believe that you are a Proscribed Person. 'Inability to transact' may include delaying, blocking, freezing or refusing to process a transaction or ceasing to provide you with a product or service. A 'Proscribed Person' means any person or entity who the Group reasonably believes to be (i) in breach of the laws of any jurisdiction prohibiting money laundering or terrorism financing, or (ii) on a list of persons with whom dealings are proscribed by Australian laws or the laws of another recognised jurisdiction. A 'Proscribed Person' includes any person or entity who the Group reasonably believes to act on behalf, or for the benefit of, a person or entity referred to in (i) and/or (ii).
- You agree to use these services only in accordance with these terms and conditions and your other legal obligations. We are not liable for, and you release and indemnify us against, any liabilities, claims, losses or costs arising from our acting in accordance with any communication that we receive by phone, or electronically about your account or investments with us or arising from the use of FirstNet by you or any person using your Online Identity Number (OIN) and password.

Use of telephone and electronic communications

Security of phone, and electronic requests

- We have procedures in place to reduce the risk of fraud, but we cannot guarantee that someone trying to impersonate you will not contact us about your account and change your details or make a withdrawal. We may dispute liability for any losses which happen because we have acted on phone instructions that you have not authorised but which appear to be authorised by you.
- All our customers are automatically given access to communicate with us by phone and electronically. You need to tell us if you do not want us to accept any future instructions over the phone or electronically by sending us an original signed request.
- We will block access to your account for phone and electronic instructions by the second business day after we receive that request. Until this happens, these terms and conditions for phone and electronic communications will still apply to your account.
- If you are a joint account holder, any of the joint account holders may give us instructions about the account.
- If the account holder is a company, any director of the company may give us instructions about the account, provided we have previously been notified in writing of the lists of directors.

Information received by phone or electronically

- If the details that we receive over the phone or electronically do not match the details that we have previously received for the account, then we will not proceed with the request.
- We also will not process a request if the instructions we receive are incomplete or illegible or appear to contain errors. This is to ensure that the transaction we perform is exactly what you were requesting.
- We can change or cancel these terms for phone and electronic communications at any time as long as we give you 14 days written notice.
- Apart from these terms and conditions, we may have other requirements for receiving instructions from time to time. You will be notified if this affects you or your request.
- If you do not accept changes to these terms, you may permanently stop instructing us by phone or electronically without fee or charge by providing us with an original signed request, as outlined under the heading 'Security of phone and electronic requests'.

Use of FirstNet

OIN and password

- You must keep your OIN and password secret. You should not disclose them to anyone or record them in a way which could affect their confidentiality.
- If you give someone else permission to use your OIN and password, you are responsible for any transactions they perform or changes they make to your account information, or anything that happens because you gave them that permission.
- Anyone can access FirstNet if they have a valid OIN and password. This means that if someone else has your OIN and password, they can access your account information and make transactions, even if you have not authorised them to use your OIN and password. We are not responsible to you and will not pay for any losses that may happen because we acted on any instructions received through FirstNet which used your OIN and password, whether or not these instructions were authorised by you.
- You must tell us immediately if you think that someone has accessed your account without your permission or if you think that someone else may know your OIN and password. We will stop access to the account and issue a new password.

Access to FirstNet

- You can tell us if you want to permanently stop using FirstNet by sending us an original signed request. We will block FirstNet access to your account on the second business day after we receive that request. Until this happens, these terms and conditions will still apply to your account.
- We will do our best to maintain the operation of this service in accordance with the information you have received about it. However, we may suspend or restrict your access to the service at any time including, but not limited to, in circumstances where we have reasonable certainty of unauthorised transactions or fraud.
- We do not guarantee or warrant that the use of FirstNet will be uninterrupted or error free. We also do not warrant that it is suitable for any particular purpose or has any performance, functionality or security features, except what we are legally obliged to provide.
- We will take all reasonable steps to make sure that the information that you access through FirstNet is up-to-date and correct.
- When you are joint account holders, and one of you registers for FirstNet transaction access, both of you are taken to have agreed to any transactions on your account through FirstNet.

Transacting on FirstNet

- 'Transaction access' means the ability to review, modify or update your contact details and accounts online; apply for, withdraw and switch units between funds or options and set up automatic facilities or features.
- You agree to use this service in accordance with these terms and conditions.
- We will only act on transaction requests that are complete and received in full, are legible and do not appear to contain any error.
- For FirstNet, a transaction reference onscreen is evidence that the communication has been completed.

- We are not liable for any losses or delays that occur because we did not receive an instruction.
- If there are any government fees and charges incurred by us in relation to your use of FirstNet, we can debit these from your account.
- You must only use FirstNet to obtain information that you are properly authorised to access and you must use this information only for lawful purposes.
- We can change these terms and conditions at any time by placing the changes on our website. When making any changes, we will act reasonably and, so far as possible, in accordance with prevailing market conditions and regulatory requirements for accounts of this type at that time. We may ask you to read and accept any amended terms and conditions so you can keep using FirstNet, but, unless otherwise required by law, once we have placed them on the website, they are binding on you, even if you have not read them.

If you do not accept these changes, you may permanently stop using FirstNet without fee or charge by providing us with an original signed request, as outlined under the heading 'Access to FirstNet'.

We recommend that you check these terms and conditions on a regular basis. These terms and conditions include any instructions for using these services provided to you or placed on our website from time to time.

Financial Services Guide

3 February 2020

This Financial Services Guide (FSG) is an important document which we are required to give to you under the requirements of our Australian Financial Services Licence. It provides you with information about Colonial First State Investments Limited ABN 98 002 348 352 ('Colonial First State', 'we', 'our', or 'us') to help you decide whether to use the financial services we provide. This FSG outlines the types of services and products we can offer to you. It also explains how we (and other relevant persons) are remunerated for these services and includes details of our internal and external complaints handling procedures and how you can access them.

To invest in any of our financial products you, or your participating employer sponsor (if applicable), must complete the application form attached to or accompanying the relevant Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). The PDS contains information about the particular product and will assist you in making an informed decision about that product.

If we provide you with personal financial product advice rather than general financial product advice, we will give you a Statement of Advice (SOA), unless we are exempted from doing so. Personal financial product advice is advice that takes into account one or more of your objectives, financial situation and needs. The SOA will contain the advice, the basis on which it is given and information about fees, commissions and any associations which may have influenced the advice.

What financial services and products do we offer?

Colonial First State is authorised to offer a range of financial services including:

- dealing in financial products
- giving advice on financial products
- operating registered managed investment schemes
- being the trustee of superannuation funds.

We also offer a range of managed investment, superannuation and pension products. Some of our superannuation products offer life insurance benefits. We can help you to apply for these products and can also give you general financial product advice in relation to our products, or products offered by other financial institutions, including other members of the Bank. We do not generally provide financial planning services. We only give personal financial product advice in limited situations. Personal financial product advice is not provided through our website or Investor Services.

How can you transact with us?

You can give us instructions electronically, by telephone, mail or via our website. Any dealings with us by telephone or electronically will be governed by our standard 'telephone and electronic communications terms and conditions'. These terms and conditions are contained in the PDS for each product and are also available on the website at colonialfirststate.com.au. There are also terms and conditions of use for our website and FirstNet, our secure internet service. These terms and conditions can be obtained on the website.

How are we remunerated for the services we provide?

If you invest in a product we offer, Colonial First State will receive remuneration in relation to your investment in that product. Where we advise you about a product offered by another company of the Bank and you acquire that product, then that company will receive remuneration. This remuneration may include contribution fees and management costs (which include transaction, ongoing and, if applicable, any borrowing costs). In some situations, withdrawal fees, account fees and transaction fees may apply. The remuneration we will receive for the products we offer is set out in the PDS for the particular product. The remuneration we will receive for this product is set out in the 'Fees and other costs' section of the PDS on pages 13 and 17 of this combined document. Colonial First State does not receive any fees, nor do we charge you additional fees for providing financial product advice.

What commissions, fees or other benefits are received?

Employees of Colonial First State who give you advice do not receive specific payments or commissions for the giving of that advice. These employees and our directors receive salaries, bonuses and other benefits from us. Bonus payments and other benefits are discretionary, and based on achievement of pre-determined objectives, in compliance with the Corporations Act 2001. You may receive advice in relation to the products we offer from financial advisers who do not work for Colonial First State or may be representatives of other licensees in the Bank. These advisers, as well as their licensed dealer groups, may receive some benefits as well as remuneration from us. The adviser's and their licensed dealer group's remuneration is included in the fees you pay when investing in our products. The amount of this remuneration is set out in the PDS for the particular product. The remuneration we pay advisers and their licensed dealer groups in relation to this product is set out in the 'What is paid to your adviser?' section of the PDS on page 17 of this combined document. We do not pay commissions or provide other benefits to third parties for referring customers to us.

What kind of compensation arrangements are in place for a breach of our legal obligations?

Where we are liable to meet a claim, payment will generally be paid from our cash flows and available resources. For claims we may rely on and claim under the professional indemnity insurances that we hold. These insurances are between us and the insurer and are intended to respond to civil liability resulting from significant claims for compensation made against us for financial services provided by us or our representatives. These insurances provide cover even if one of our representatives has ceased to act or work for us. Our compensation arrangements comply with the legal requirements set out in section 912B of the Corporations Act.¹

How is your personal information dealt with?

Please refer to the inside cover of this combined document (the PDS dated 3 February 2020) and page 27 for details on how your personal information is dealt with.

What should you do if you have a complaint?
